“Lawns connect neighbors and neighborhoods; they’re viewed as an indicator of socio-economic character, which translates into property- and resale values”
Krystal D’Costa - Scientific American

Lawn Mowing: Mowing the lawn is about more than just keeping your lawn’s height under control, mowing stimulates the grass of your lawn to lushness and better health. There are a several aspects that may contribute for a healthy and good appearance lawn:

- 1. Quality and condition of the equipment used for lawn mowing plays a crucial role on the process.*
- 2. Mower’s blade(s) most be sharpened for a better lawn trimming.*
- 3. Lawn’s leaf length should be taken in consideration, once plants use it for photosynthesis.*
- 4. Dry days should be the first option when lawn services are scheduled.*
- 5. Mowing patterns should consistently be switched.*
